ITEMS OF INTEREST.

Preparations for a Good Art Exhibit.

LAWN TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

How Placer Mining is Done Without Water—The Dry Washer—Since the Boom.

Among other matters the Directors of the District Fair Agricultural Association are discussing the art exhibit. It has always been customary to reserve a good room at the front of the building for the work of local artists and a number of prizes are offered for the best exhibits in the various lines. If they can receive the right kind of encouragement from the local artists the Directors propose to make an unusual effort this year to secure a first-class exhibit and perhaps will improve it by the addition of a number of paintings of other artists loaned for the occasion.

This city contains at the present time a number of artists who are doing excellent work and the board feels that they deserve encouragement and assistance. The room in the pavilion which is usually devoted to this form of exhibits is large and well lighted by day. With the addition of a few rows of gas jets near to the ceiling an excellent light could be obtained in the evenings. To secure a satisfactory background for the display of paintings the walls would have to be covered with some dark material, which could be done at little expense. The room when properly put in order would be one in which local artists, professional and amateur, would be glad to place their work on exhibition.

Very little effort has been made in the past to make a feature of the art loan exhibit, but it is believed that if the matter were put into the right hands, the residents of Los Angeles who are the fortunate possessors of fine paintings will be willing to loan them for the temporary enjoyment as well as the better art education of the public.

It is necessary, in order to carry out the plan, that the board should take certain precautions, which they propose to take. It is a fact which experience in such matters has taught exhibitors of pictures the country over, that people cannot be trusted to look at works of art if they have canes or umbrellas in their hands. Some one will have charge of the room who will see to it that none of the articles are touched or injured in any way, and people with canes and umbrellas will be expected to leave them outside. A special committee will probably be selected to have the whole matter in hand, and it will be composed of men in whom people who will be asked to contribute to the loan exhibit can have complete confidence.

The Board of Directors believe that if they can carry out their plans, the artists and art loving people of the city will have reason to feel very well satisfied with the result.

THE TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

Preparations Complete for the Coming Week.

Arrangements for the tournament to be held at Santa Monica beginning today are fully completed, and anticipations of a good time and that it will be the most successful meet that the Southern California Association has yet had, are running high.

The membership of the clubs forming the association now numbers about 200, and is drawn almost exclusively from the best social circles. Tennis in the East has grown rapidly in popularity among all classes, and this season it has developed into a craze, especially among fashionable people. Southern California is also showing well to the front in its enthusiasm for the sport, and the association with its annual tournaments has been a patent factor toward the accomplishment of that fact.

The following is a correct list of prizes to be given to winners, and also the official programme:

First event—Gentlemen's Association singles. First prize, "American Tate" racket, presented by H. H. Suesserott; second prize, "Slocum, Jr." racket, presented by the association.

Second event—Ladies' Association singles. First prize, chased silver gold-inlaid cup, presented by Hotel Arcadia; second prize, "Beckman" racket, presented by H. H. Suesserott.

Third event—Gentlemen's Association doubles. First prize, two custom-made tennis shirts, presented by Evan E. Evans; second prize, two "Beckman" rackets, presented by the association.

Fourth event—Ladies' Association doubles. First prize, two "Slocum" rackets, presented by A. G. Spalding & Bros.; second prize, to be selected by the association.

Fifth event—All-comers' singles. First prize, chased silver shaving cup; second prize, to be selected by the association.

Sixth event—Mixed doubles. First prize, for lady, oxydized and enameled silver cup; for gentleman, oxydized and enameled silver cigar box, both prizes given by Tufts-Lyon Arms Company; second prize, two "Slocum" rackets.

Seventh event—Handicap singles. First prize, "American Tate" racket, presented by the association.

Eighth event—Handicap doubles. First prize, two "Slocum" rackets, presented by the association.

DRY WASHERS.

How Placer Mining is Done Without Water.

Some days ago a HERALD reporter had occasion to inquire into the methods pursued in placer mining by means of a sort of fanning machine such as is used in cleaning grain. This is used where water cannot be obtained for regular placer washing. The fanning machine method is designated by the misnomer of "dry washing" and this term will be applied to the process here.

A couple of years ago there was quite an excitement about this way of extracting gold from the dirt, and numerous experiments were made at Monrovia, in the San Gabriel cañon, and other places. Recently less noise has been made about the matter, but all the same a good deal of this sort of work is going on.

The regular miners and the mining engineers do not take kindly to the "dry-wash" method of mining. Two gentlemen representing these pursuits were first interviewed, and they were as unanimous in their opinions as "Poo-Bah" in Mikado. They stated that the machine most in use was as perfect as a machine could well be. The principle was perfectly applied in the mechanical apparatus. Theoretically, there was nothing to add to it. But as these miners and mine engineers took it, in practice it is a failure. They say if the ground was well verized and thoroughly dried, the machine would separate the gold from the dirt as thoroughly as a fanning machine separates grain from chaff. But the earth is of irregular shape as it comes to the machine. It is full of cobble stones, roots, lumps of clay, stray chips and what not, making it difficult to pass it rapidly through the machine. Moreover, the ground is often very wet, and is generally damp, and this quality tends to choke the machine.

This adverse news was not reassuring at all, so the reporter, who is always of a sanguine turn of mind, sought the maker of the machines, to get his views on his business. He stated that in a little over a year he had sold about 250 machines of various sizes. Some of these are being used near here, in Soledad cañon, in Lytle Creek cañon, and in others. Some of them are being worked on the Colorado desert, out towards Yuma. Others are in Arizona and New Mexico. In fact there are some of them in all the Western States and Territories where mining is carried on. Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana, Dakota, Utah, Colorado and Nevada have a few each scattered all over the territories. There are a good many in Lower California, and four have been shipped to Mazatlan in Old Mexico.

These machines require from two to six men to work one of them. With a force of six men 50 tons of dirt a day can be put through. In some cases two men work a machine, and run 12 tons a day through. Dirt that "pans out" as low as 25 cents to the ton is worked. If 50 tons of such dirt is run through by six men, they make $12.50 a day, or a little more than $2 each a day. This is probably the reason why the big mining men do not go into it. To work 50,000 tons a day through these machines requires a good deal of labor, and the dirt must be pretty rich to pay. Still if it only went a little over 25 cents a ton, which would pay the men, and 50,000 tons a day were worked the profits would not be small.

As to the condition of the dirt in regard to being pulverized, and as to being dry, the inventor stated that he had been at work on a machine to pulverize the matter worked, and he also had a kiln devised in which to dry it, but those who use the "dry washer" say they do not care to complicate their industry in this way. Such an apparatus would be costly to buy and would require both water and fuel to run. These are scarce in the camps where the machines are used and would add greatly to the cost of extracting the gold. Where they are used the ground is plowed in the morning and let dry until afternoon, when it is worked. The dirt plowed in the afternoon is let lie until next morning, when it is found to be dry enough. In a climate like this there would be no difficulty in drying the dirt all the year round. Even in a damp place like Oregon this plan works to a charm.

Of course this machine is only a recent invention. It is not long in use, and then on the most part in a small way by a little band of men, who are in the main satisfied to make wages. On the Colorado desert those working the machine make as much as $25 a day each.

There are very large beds of dirt in many parts of the Coast remote from water and full of precious ore. The "dry-washer" seems to be destined to play an important part in mining operations hereafter. In time big beds of "pay gravel" such as the girl's father in Bret Harte's poem struck "while drifting on Poverty Flat" will be discovered, and a combination will be made which will justify, perhaps, the kiln and the crusher. In these camps large amounts of dirt will be handled daily and large amounts of gold will be separated by these means.

SINCE THE BOOM.

A Fair Sample of the Improvement That Goes On.

Improvement in residence sections of this city is very much inclined to advance in piecemeal. While there is a general advance all over the city, as is shown by the number of residences and business buildings, it often happens that some particular spot will undergo a special boom. Building is always contagious, and where one man begins to improve his property, those who own in the immediate vicinity, are very likely to follow suit.

A very good instance of this is Bunker Hill avenue and the adjoining streets. Starting at Temple and Bunker Hill, let one drive over the summit and back by Grand avenue, taking in some of the cross streets. On the crown of the hill, within the past six months, a dozen or more residences have been completed and a number are now in the course of building or of improvement.

At Court street there are three two-story houses owned by G. L. Mansfield, and two cottages owned by Mr. Trantum, which have been built and finished since the boom went down. Near Second is a new house of three stories, costing about $3,000, which Robert Perry has just built. Between Second and Third, Joseph Bouts is putting up a very elaborate and pretty two-story residence to cost about $2,500. In this same block a number of people are making additions to their residences or completely remodeling them. Miss Jerryback is having her house raised one story and a high basement inserted underneath. G. M. Holton has put in an addition costing about $1,500. J. H. Stewart, the cashier of the Los Angeles County Bank, has an addition costing about $2,500, and Judge Brosseau is remodeling his place and building a wing on one side at a cost of about $1,500. At the vacant lot numbered 131, bricks and lumber are on hand, and the construction of a residence to cost about $4,000 will soon be begun. The elegant residence of R. M. Baker has been finished within a year.

On the adjoining cross streets there are several small dwellings either in process of erection or recently finished. On Grand avenue, near Second street, a residence of unusual size and beauty is nearing completion. It is the four-story domicile of M. W. Connor. The exterior is covered with much handsome carving, and the house, when completed, will be an edifice of which, not only that section alone, but the entire city will feel proud. Next door to it is the new residence of R. Larkin's, built since the boom is supposed to have died down. Also on Grand avenue is the $6,000 new residence of Mr. Sowers.

On Flower and Hope streets a good deal of improvement is in progress, not only in the building of residences, but also in the leveling off of lots preparatory to building. The hill section of the city takes its turn with the rest in seizing upon every opportunity to gain in beauty and comfort.

CAMP BURNSIDE.

It Quietly Breaks Up and the Veterans Depart.

HOW THE LAST DAY WAS SPENT.

Sunday Services at San Pedro—Closing Notes of the Successful Encampment.

Drills and duties were dispensed with on Saturday and Sunday at Camp Burnside, and the veterans amused themselves and their friends by holding little parties around camp. Many went out to visit Captain Shaw at Point Fermin light; others, in parties of from ten to twenty, took sailboats or yachts for a cruise of a few hours, and put in part of their time fishing. But by far the largest crowd were to be found bathing on the splendid beach in front of Comrade Burkle's bathhouse. The water at this point is exceedingly quiet, and the beach a gradually sloping one, so that one can wade out for some distance without getting into deep water. All have seemed to enjoy themselves immensely on this beach, and many say that it is the finest bathing place on the Coast.

The trains for the two days carried down a number of visitors, especially those which left Los Angeles yesterday morning. These late visitors have not found the camp quite as gay, nor have they had the pleasure of attending the entertainments or of seeing many of the military movements and exercises which have been interesting features of the encampment.

The ball at the pavilion on Saturday evening was the most successful one of the encampment. A large crowd was present, and dancing was kept up until the locomotive whistle announced that the hour of 12 was near at hand.

A rousing camp fire was held by a number of the "vets" on the parade ground. Fire was made in a trench from fence rails and other inflammable material, discovered and brought in by a foraging party. Long iron rods were supported over the fire, from which hung kettles containing that favorite dish of the soldier, beans. Under the able management of men who had engineered the cooking of beans many years ago, the pot was kept boiling during the exercises, which consisted of war and camp songs, stories and speeches by the comrades. When the cooks announced their task completed, everybody took a hand in the consumption of the dish, and after all were satisfied the veterans turned in for the night. Rev. Comrade James B. Holloway conducted the religious exercises at camp yesterday. In the morning he preached a very fine sermon, and excellent music was rendered by the quartette. The evening was devoted to a praise service, which was attended by many of the campers.

The firing of the evening gun was the signal for the voting on the hat to stop. Adjutant Tarbie was the successful candidate. He is to be congratulated as the owner of one of the finest hats made in this country. About $23 was realized from the voting, which is for the benefit of Burnside Post, of San Pedro.

Tents were struck by many of the comrades yesterday, but the great majority of the veterans will stay until the last moment, and will then leave with many regrets that their camping for this year is at an end, and they will soon begin to look forward to the next G. A. R. reunion of the department, at which they will all endeavor to be present, and will, without doubt, remember the encampment which is just about to close as the most successful and enjoyable one held in this State.

NOTES.

By tonight Camp Burnside will be deserted.

The great success of the encampment is due to the heroic efforts of the Committee of Arrangements, who were strongly supported by the W. R. C., and the Post and citizens of San Pedro.

Mrs. Banning, of San Pedro, who kindly sent flowers and in many ways greatly assisted the ladies, has been tendered the thanks of the W. R. C.

THE NATIONALISTS.

A Constitution Adopted by the Association.

The Nationalists met yesterday afternoon in Upper Turn Verein Hall, which, as usual, was well filled. The proceedings opened with a vocal solo by Mrs. Coan, and then the Chairman read a communication, setting forth some ideas as to how the proposed great movement should be inaugurated. He advised organization and warned the association to have nothing to do with politics. He thought the aims of the movement could be accomplished by capturing the Members of Congress. The two great political parties should, he thought, be allowed to make their nominations and then representatives of the association should extract a pledge from the nominee to support the measures of the Nationalists when introduced in Congress. Mr. J. Newberg read a long essay on the aims and objects of the association, in which he set forth in a brief manner the ideas contained in Bellamy's book. Carl Browne talked for some time on the sewer question. The Committee on Constitution and By-Laws offered a report which was unanimously adopted and the meeting adjourned.

Wine Cellar Burned.

On Saturday morning a fire broke out in the wine cellar of Baron Rogniat on Downey avenue and before the East Los Angeles fire engine could render any assistance the entire building was destroyed with most of its contents. The walls of the building were concrete but it contained a wooden attic covered with shingle roof. The Chinamen employed by the Baron occupied a portion of the attic when the fire started. The doors to the cellar was locked and the employes in the place had to work at a disavantage. A few cases of wine were carried out but these were all that was saved, and as the nearest fire hydrant was two blocks away the engine was of but little service. The loss amounted to $9,000, on which there was an insurance of $4,000 on the wines and $400 on the building, which cost $2,500.

THE FASHIONS.

What is Being and is to be Worn.

SEVERAL POINTS FOR THE LADIES

Preparations Already Being Made for the Fall Season—Changes of Ideas.

To be fashionable the parasol should match the dress.

Dresses made entirely of crape are worn only by widows.

Warm weather fancy work should not require the use of needles.

The newest wrinkle in Paris is a colored gown with black sleeves.

Never any fashion in dress died so hard as the bustle, but it is almost gone.

Roof gardens are not the fashion, but it is right to pray that they may be in the near future.

The woman who does not wear a corset has an advantage over the one who does at this time of the year.

Minton china is in high favor for dinner services, Worcester for decorations and crown Derby for vases.

Crepe de Chine is the prettiest fabric in use that can be worn on dress occasions during the period of mourning.

The prettiest white dresses of the season are made of China silk and silk mull, the mull being used for the sleeves.

White silk and lace parasols have an air that is not truly rural, but which is becoming to light and jaunty costumes, nevertheless.

Angel sleeves, or, as the Parisians call them, "Mauchera la Juive," are worn with sleeveless jackets over skirts the same color as the sleeves.

All the lovely tints of lilac, mauve, and heliotrope are suddenly restored to their old-time popularity. Some of the new dyes shade exquisitely into faint tints of old rose.

Black laces and white laces are beautifully combined in some of the new Corday and Marie Antoinette fichus, and capes and gowns formed of this magpie mixture are among some of the most elegant dresses of the season.

"La Surprise de la Course," is the name given to a dress which was in high favor at the English races. At first view it appears somewhat like a plain redingote, but when thrown open in front displays a petticoat and waistcoat of great richness.

Women's hats have assumed another wrinkle. The Paris models reported in London are said to be "somewhat fantastic in shape, the brims breaking out in unexpected curves, depressed here, raised there, and twisted into all sorts of angles." A double-crowned hat has also been seen.

On some of the new sleeves the materials are again shaped to give increased height to the shoulder-points. A deep cut is then made in the fore part, which is more or less long. Into this space a piece of material, shaped like an elongated diamond cut in half, is introduced. Where no alien fabric is employed passementerie similarly shaped is laid upon the sleeve.

The effective union of red and black appears in many of the dress toilets prepared for the autumn season. Red crepe de Chine, for example, is made up with point d'esprite and vivid Roman red crepaline is veiled with black Chantilly net, the skirt slightly raised at the left side, but falling straight elsewhere. A black gauze fan, black gloves, black silk hose and black kid sandals are en suite.

Small fruits of every description appear among the hat and bonnet garnitures for the coming season. These are perfect imitations of nature, especially the purple grapes, plums, red and white currants, apricots, peaches and blackberries in cluster. These fruits are mixed with folds of net and plaitings of black lace, on large directoire round hats, toques and capotes of shirred black tulle.

A writer on fashions in a Boston paper, apparently a woman, says that the Marquise de Beauvoir and the Duchesse de Luynes appeared at the Grand Prix with frocks cut so low in the neck as to give a "complete view of the clavicles. Both frocks were rather simply made, with narrow belts fastened in the back by a simple rosette, so that the attention was necessarily centered on the cut of the waist."

It is said that we are soon to be treated to an improvement in the mechanism of umbrellas. Everybody knows how exasperating it is to stand in a deluge of rain vainly shaking the detestable things. Everybody will hail with pleasure any simplification of the present intricacies of rods and springs. The improved umbrella, as announced, will unfailingly and instantly open and close by touching a spring that is concealed in the handle.

The fashion of puffs on the shoulder is decidedly pretty upon slender women and children—much prettier than the esthetic puffed sleeves. The puffs are put on over the close coat-sleeve after it has been made. A favorite sleeve for autumn tea-gowns will be the Vandyke, the pointed ends of which barely reach the elbow. The model opens but slightly, and is edged with a narrow band of passementerie or gold or silver galloon. A dainty bishop sleeve of lace, net, or China silk issues from the pointed one, and is shirred into a band at the wrist.

A novel and useful little article called a "perfumer" is the latest novelty shown in the toilet article line. It consists of a perforated metal cylinder containing absorbent cotton, which may be saturated with a favorite odor. It is designed to succeed the sachet bag in perfuming a quantity of undergarments at once; can be used in the corsage, the pocket, handkerchief case, etc., etc. Wherever used it imparts a delicate perfume to all surrounding objects. It has the great advantage over a sachet bag from the fact that it can be removed at pleasure from the favorite odor bottle.

In the early weeks of the spring season directoire capes that appeared in our streets clung to the sober hues of tan, brown or dark green. Now the French-women, who introduced this novel wrap, are more daring as to color than their English or American sisters, and appeared at the races, in the Bois, etc., with the four falls of the cape of poppy red, empire green, and vivid blue cloth, and lined inside with a bright contrasting shade of satin or silk. New York women, while they wear tan-colored and tan-lined capes in town, appreciate the effect produced by the gay colors, and at the seaside resorts and in the mountains and country don the bright red and green shoulder capes with easy conscience.

A woman who possesses but two or three gowns a season understands the value of all those feminine contrivances that cost but a small sum, are laid in the laces and ribbon box, yet have the faculty of changing the whole expression of her modest toilets by adding a touch of dainty refinement of dress every woman should cultivate. Now is the season when new stock is laid in at the dry goods store, and remnants are being sold at cost, and many a fine chance bargain can be made. Bits of China silk, mull, and surah will make adjustable vests and plastrons, and in clever fingers the directoire ruching may be manufactured in odd moments and for much less than the store price. A yard or two of fine muslin on the remnant pile and a scrap of lace from the bargain box will make a fichu to be worn morning and evening, when you will appear charming. It is worth while to buy at this season pieces of goods that may be useless at present, but will come in play at some future date.

SANTA MONICA.

The Swimming Match Won by Al. Carrillo of North Beach.

The day was essentially one for enjoyment here. The weather was magnificent, a pleasant breeze blowing steadily from the ocean's broad expanse, and the water was warm and enticing. That the 5,000 people who journeyed down from Los Angeles and other inland cities, enjoyed themselves, was well evidenced by a stroll along the beach during the hours when the throng was at its flood.

The pavilions and shades were crowded, the beach was lined with loungers, and in the water hundreds disported and shouted with glee as the huge breakers came tumbling over their heads and dashed into seething foam on the sandy shore.

Apart from the attractions of nature, amusements had been provided, the programme consisting of a baseball contest, acrobatic performances and the great swimming championship match. In addition to these the Santa Monica band, in full uniform, was on North Beach, and played an enjoyable selection of music for the benefit of the promenaders and loungers on the sands.

The baseball match between the Tufts-Lyon and Vienna Buffet nines was decided during the course of the afternoon on the grounds to the south of the Southern Pacific passenger depot. It proved to be a one-sided event, resulting in a victory for the Tufts-Lyon team by a score of 23 to 8, but was nevertheless much enjoyed by the large crowd which witnessed the contest. Moody and Leland formed the battery for Tufts-Lyon and Pierre and Early for the Vienna Buffet.

The acrobatic entertainment was of the usual nature, consisting of tumbling, horizontal bar performances and the flying trapeze. It was given soon after 3 o'clock on North Beach, and was witnessed by thousands.

It was a few minutes after 2 o'clock when the start was made for the event of the day—the championship swimming match, for $250, between Charles Waller, of South Beach, and Al. Carillo, of North Beach. They plunged into the water near the life-line of the North Beach bathhouse, accompanied by boats, containing Umpire Lawson and Referee Wray, their entry being greeted with a ringing cheer from the onlookers. They waded to deep water and then struck out side by side, maintaining the positions for half a mile or so, when Carillo began to show his heels to his opponent. The North Beach man kept increasing his advantage and rounded the buoy with a good lead, making a mistake, however, that might have cost him the race; for on turning the mark he went to the left instead of to the right, as ordained in the agreement, and he was at once ordered back by Umpire Lawson. By the time he had made the round for the second time he was twenty-five yards behind, and he set out in real earnest to overtake Waller, who was going steadily ahead. It was quite an exciting contest for the next quarter of a mile, for Carillo came up hand over hand and finally passed his opponent and led the procession again. He increased his advantage more and more, and landed the winner by 150 yards, amidst the plaudits of thousands of throats. Waller is 25 years f age and swam at 140 pounds, while Carillo, who is 35, weighed 180. The time for the round trip was one hour and four minutes, it being impossible to go fast on account of the choppiness of the sea. Carillo claims the championship of Southern California and is open to challenge. Waller wants to meet him again, claiming that he was cramped a couple of times during the contest.

Sy. Rich, of the People's Store, took a chill whilst in the surf this morning. He was carried to the Arcadia and put to bed, where Dr. J. K. Carson attended to his troubles, and soon had him fit to move about again

The 6:10 train on the Southern Pacific from Los Angeles here ran into a herd of cattle whilst passing the Soldiers' Home switch. There was a general scattering of the animals, twenty-one being killed outright and five others so badly injured that their deaths were necessitated. The train kept the track in spite of the crash.

The schooner-yacht Nellie, from San Pedro, was over today and tacked up and down the bay, coming at one time within hailing distance of shore.

New summer passenger cars were run on the Los Angeles and Pacific for the first time yesterday. They are a decided improvement on the old style, being open at the sides and thus permitting a pleasant breeze.

The Arcadia ball Saturday night was like its predecessors, a most enjoyable affair, and attracted the biggest attendance of any given so far this year. Among the many on the floor were Mr. and Mrs. Plater, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Hewitt, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Jones, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Foster. Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Hall, Dr. and Mrs. Ainsworth, Miss Lily Briggs, the Misses Waddilove, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Hellman, Mrs. J. O. Newhall, Mrs. Hayes, Miss Mary Banning, Miss Constance Jones, Miss Maud Northam, Miss Mildred Howell, Miss Flora Culver, Mrs. M. S. T. Harvey, J. L. Forrester, Luis Bettner and R. M. Adams.

Joe Ellingsworth is doing some fine work as a finale of his labors. He ran eleven miles this morning in an hour and fifteen minutes.

The railroad interests were well represented here today, there being present C. Seiglor, C. F. Smurr, Dr. Ainsworth, H. Steere, Tom McCaffrey, Jack Reeves, W. D. Perkins and J. B. Harrison, of Southern Pacific; W. L. Wardwell, of the Chicago and Alton; N. B. Carter, of the Santa Fe, and C. L. Colby, of the Union Pacific.

Among the many at the Arcadia and on the sands, today, were: Admiral McCaldin, J. F. Humphreys, H. Bigelow, C. D. Whitecomb, General J. R. Mathews, R. J. Northam, J. E. Cummings, A. F. Harvey, J. Slauson, F. Harkness, J. G. Estudillo, W. J. Brodrick, R. H. Howell, J. C. Robinson.

THE STAGE.

Gossip About the Plays and Those who Present Them.

NOTES FROM THE MIMIC WORLD.

Fortunes Made by Actors and Actresses—Amusements to Come to Los Angeles.

"Fritz" Emmet introduces the celebrated $5,000 St. Bernard dog Plinlimmon in his play of Uncle Joe.

The commission to execute the monument to Felix Mendelssohn at Leipsic has been given to the sculptor Stein, a resident of that city.

Al Hayman has so much improved in health that he has been able to run over from St. Catherine to Saratoga, where he spent most of last week.

Fanny Davenport will remain in California until late in September, recuperating for the fatigue of her next tour, which is to begin at Rochester, N. Y., November 7.

Miss Fanny Rice is resting for a few weeks on her farm at Franklin Falls, N. H. She returns to the cast of The Brigands, at the Casino, New York, about September 1.

There are many indications that the singing of English ballads will be far more popular the coming season than for many years, and successful teachers of this class of concert work will undoubtedly find great favor.

Anton Rubinstein is said to have just finished a new opera entitled Gorrischa, or Mme. Ivresse Nocturne, which is to be performed for the first time at the Imperial Opera of St. Petersburg on the occasion of the Rubenstein jubilee next December.

It is said by the gossips that the real reason why Irving says he is not going to America any more is because he feels offended at the treatment some of the newspapers gave him when he was there last etime. Ellen Terry says that she contemplates another visit.

The People's Theater has been running steadily and has been drawing good houses. The stock company seems to be doing excellent work, and while the plays are of a sensational order, they seem to take well. The Red Fox is announced for the coming week.

A well-known critic says: "Patti Rosa is one of the merriest of merry little ladies. While she is on the stage there is nothing like dullness to complain of, and her quips and cranks, her banjo playing, singing and airy tripping of her feet, prove sufficiently exhilarating to keep the audience in the liveliest of humors."

A company of 300 artists has left Madrid for Paris, where they will co-operate in the tableaux at the Spanish festivals. A large corps de ballet, the entire orchestra of the Theater Royal at Madrid, 150 picked Andalusians in their national costumes, guitarists, mandolinists, students, and others are among them.

Many years ago, when a circus was showing in Gorham, Me., the clown, whose name was Reynolds, was thrown from a horse and killed. He was buried in the Gorham cemetery, and it is said that since that time whenever a circus has visited the town it has been the custom for the company to visit the clown's grave and strew flowers on it, while the band plays a dirge.

Lillian Russell is said by an eastern writer to be the victim of her own beauty, and the dread of getting fat keeps her as miserable as the humblest chorus-girl in the Casino Company. She can't eat any sort of sweetmeats, cake or pastry. Every vegetable is forbidden that grows under ground; no wine is allowed to pass her lips, meat is limited to one meal a day, and between the food she dare not eat and does not care to eat her bill of fare is confined to bread and butter, lemons and lettuce.

The question as to who is the prima donna assoluta of the world has at last been settled. Emma Abbott has purchased a gown in Paris for $4,000, "the largest sum ever paid for a stage costume." It is described as of a saffron-colored velvet, embroidered with pearls and diamonds. This plan of decoration, of course, opens the way for raising the cost of an actress's dress to practically unlimited figures. She need but sew her jewelry on it. Emma's entire new outfit is quoted at $16,000.

This week Karl Gardner will appear at the Grand Opera House in Karl, the Pedler and in Fatherland. The season will open tonight in the former of these plays. They are both of the musical comedy type, full of fun and of song. Mr. Gardner has an excellent voice, and his songs take with all classes of audiences in the largest cities in the land. In these torrid days of August people are for the most part away from the city, but still a very fair attendance may be expected at these performances. Mr. Gardner is accompanied by a troupe of very clever people, each of whom adds materially to the merit of the performance.

There is a painful interest for the theatrical world in these two items of news, that Christine Nilsson has become deaf and that Damala, the husband of Sarah Bernhardt, has been afflicted with delirium tremens, owing to overdoses of morphine. Mme. Nilsson's deafness comes from rheumatism, and the rheumatism was caused by a general upset of the nerves six years ago, when the songstress lost the whole of her fortune in the Union Generale. The loss drove her first husband, M Rouzeaud, mad, and he died after a week's raving in an asylum. Mme. Nilsson has never quite recovered from these shocks, and her second marriage two years ago with a Spanish journalist seems to have brought her more excitement than domestic happiness.—[Berlin Letter.

Commencing Monday evening August 26 Rose Coghlan will appear for a week in three plays. On Monday and Tuesday evenings in Jocelyn, a romantic drama of the seventeenth century; on Wednesday and Thursday evenings and Saturday matinee in Conflict, a play of strong human interest, from the French of Edouard Cadol (member of the French Society of Dramatic Authors) adapted by Louis Nathal, and on Friday and Saturday nights in Chas. Reade's charming comedy, Peg Woffington or Masks and Faces. Miss Coghlan brings with her all the scenery, etc., necessary to mount the play in the same artistic manner as at the Star Theatre, New York City. Her company is complete and among them are some of the best eastern actors.

These floating guesses are published for what they are worth. There are but two millionaires among all the rich actors—Lottie Crabtree and Edwin Booth. They have considerably over $1,000,000 each. Charles Bernard, the ex-minstrel, has $500,000, and Joseph Murphy has as much. Joseph Jefferson had more, but spent a good deal in starting his sons in life. Maggie Mitchell has about $400,000, most of it invested in railway bonds. Mary Anderson has earned $250,000 with her beautiful face, and has invested it in England. Minnie Palmer has about $275,000, while Stuart Robson and W. H. Crane divided $500,000 between them when they separated. Mrs. Langtry has her $150,000 invested in New York and California real estate. Fritz Emmet has made about $200,000 and Annie Pixley the same, most of which is solidly invested in city lots in Denver and Minneapolis. Denman Thomson has made $150,000 out of his play, and has part of it safely salted down in Government bonds. James O'Neill has made a fortune out of one play, which he has invested in mortgages in Western farms. Nat Goodwin has a fortune, but more than half of it was left to him by his wife. Francis Wilson has made $100,000. Emma Abbott has a fortune of $225,000, a large part of which is invested in diamonds, and Fanny Davenport has at least $20,000 worth of her $100,000 locked up in these shining stones, which are periodically being stolen and recovered. Hermann, the magician, has made a fortune, which is all safely stored in paying property in the upper portion of New York City.

GARRETT'S STORY.

He Continues it on the Witness Stand.

Saturday morning at 9:35 o'clock Justice Lockwood resumed the hearing of the Garrett examination for the seventh day. The defendant, who had recited a number of his adventures, on Friday afternoon, was called upon to continue his story, and testified in effect as follows:

After the whipping episode I left Florida and went to New Orleans, where my wife died and was buried. I did not stay there long after this trouble fell upon me, and made San Antonio, Texas, my next residence for about two months. Both Malia and Ella were with me, and during that period Malia got me into trouble almost every week with her stories. She was then about 10 or 11 years of age. At the end of the two months we returned to St. Louis, and I took Malia to the Sisters' Asylum. About that time I obtained employment as a traveler for T. Faust, of St. Louis, and was frequently away for weeks at a time. On one occasion I returned after a two weeks' trip and called at "the Sisters" to see Malia. I was informed by one of the Sisters that I must take the girl away from the institution, as they could not possibly keep her there any longer. Her behavior was very bad, and she was always telling yarns. I took her home, and she and little Ella lived with me. Before long, however, I learned from Ella that her sister had taught her things which would make her a bad girl. I spoke to Malia about it, and she admitted having fooled with Ella in the cellar. As I was called away again I put her in the care of Miss Josie Sheridan, and advised her to be a good girl and do nothing she would be ashamed of afterwards. I then went to Little Rock and thence down to the Indian Territory. I got a telegram and started for St. Louis, feeling sure that something was wrong, and reached there in a terrible frame of mind. I asked Josie the meaning of the message, and she received me very coolly. Finally I elicited the reason from her. She said that Malia had told her on the night that I left home that I had placed her as a spy on Josie in my absence; that I was going to get rid of her on my return, and after selling the furniture, leave her to starve. May had also told others a number of horrible things about me while I was away. On one occasion she went to the Mayor of St. Louis and told him that I had slept with her and abused her. That was in 1883. Afterwards, when in my presence, she admitted that it was untrue, but said that Josie had told her to say so, on hearing that I was going to leave her. I then appealed to my sister for advice, and at her suggestion took Malia to a place for unruly girls, and agreed to pay $5 per month for her support. I can't remember just how long she staid there, but on my second visit to her she begged so earnestly to be released that, relying upon her promises to be a good girl in the future, I took her home again. In a few days she was just as bad as ever, and I placed her in a Protestant orphan asylum on Lucas avenue. While there I was taken sick with kidney disease and went to Hot Springs. On returning I was sorry to find that the authorities at the asylum didn't want to keep Malia any longer, owing to her bad habits. On one occasion she had shown the girls a very valuable diamond ring, stating when asked to account for it, that she was going to marry a rich Mormon who had given it to her. Ella also developed bad habits about this time. I was then called to Salt Lake City, and on returning took Malia out of the asylum and went into apartments. We occupied three rooms for about a month, and as I was again called away I left the children at Mrs. Teele's.

At this juncture Justice Lockwood interrupted the witness and stated that he was unable, through indisposition, to occupy the bench any longer that day. He therefore adjourned court and continued the hearing of the case until 9:30 o'clock on Monday morning.

Following is the other letter written by Garrett to Malia while she was at Mrs. Watson's and introduced in evidence:

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 25, 1888.

MY DEAR CHILD—I was through your trunk today, Sunday. Oh, what a sight! twenty-two pieces, mostly of torn up sheets. I have placed them in soak for wash, and as soon as I can I will wash and send them to you. I have gathered up all of your things, which is but little, not worth the ravage, but they are yours. Everything disarranged, cut up and destroyed; even to Ella's new stockings. You wicked girl, to destroy your sister's new stockings. God have mercy on you, my wayward girl. You who was once my joy and comfort; now my trouble and pain. You never can know the trouble you have given me, and only when too late can you feel the pangs of pain you give me in driving me to cut loose from you. You could have made home a home of happiness and sunshine. Instead you have given me gray hairs and caused my life to be miserable. This is my compensation for near eighteen years of struggle, watching, praying and struggling to keep you up and make a bright and worthy girl of you. My dear child, you must pause and think of all you have done to harm your papa in the past and pledge to do better in the future, or you are lost. May God be with you, my dear girl, and strengthen you in this behalf, and may you yet be to me as the morning star is to the early break of day. In the two long years, should I live, what joy and happiness it would give me to know you had blotted out the past by your straight and honest course since I bade you good-by on the night of the 21st of July, 1888. Oh, my dear child, shun those who have pressed you onward in your dark and downward course; they will prove to be snakes to you after awhile. For your sake, my sake and for Jesus' sake, turn and be a good and truthful girl, stop lying. Take nothing that is not yours, and do not deceive your benefactor, Mrs. Watson, even in the smallest way. God bless you is the prayer of your broken-hearted papa. I found a part of Ella's chain and locket, where is the other part of the chain. Let Mrs. Watson know and she can write to me. Only the locket and less than half of the chain was in the tray of your trunk. Be truthful and let me know what you did with the other part.

MONDAY, 7 A. M.—I have one pair of your shoes, and will take them to the shoemaker's to fix and will send them to you. May God be your protector is the prayer of your

PAPA.

MONDAY, AUGUST 19, 1889.

Why They Oppose the Sewers.

The advocates of the Ballona route to the sewers are doing a good deal of special pleading and using many unfair arguments to carry their plans. The smallest tricks of the ward workers who try to influence the minds of less reasonable classes of the people are being resorted to. Representations are made that organizations are favorable to voting the bonds, when in fact the contrary is nearer the truth. When a meeting was held, by those who oppose the present plan, and it was a most enthusiastic affair, attended by large numbers of the most progressive people of Los Angeles, it was reported in the organ of the Ballona route as a failure, and those who were present were branded as "mossbacks," "obstructionists" and silurians.

These tactics will not work in the present instance. Those who oppose the plans now before the people do so in the true interests of progress. There are thousands of voters who will use their suffrage against the bonds because they want the sewer. The Council's obstinacy in forcing the issue as it is, has awakened the suspicion of the people. It is more than likely, it is certain, that the moment a movement is made to build that sewer, Santa Monica will come into the courts with a prayer for an injunction. The best legal talent of the city will be employed to press this. We all know what that means. It means a delay of years. The Council has been appealed to that the programme might be so modified as to allow the people to vote for the inside sewer as a separate proposition from the outfall. An appeal was also made not to tie the city to a too rigid proposition to go by the Ballona route, but to leave the plan a little flexible, so that in case of an injunction suit an effort to go elsewhere might be possible. The Council turned a deaf ear to both propositions. With them it was outfall or nothing, and it was Ballona or nowhere. It looks to many thoughtful people as if a "tie-up" was what was desired. For this reason thousands of citizens intend to vote down the present proposition, in order that a new programme may be formulated which will separate the inside system from the outfall, and that will not commit the city to run into a certain injunction suit. They will vote no on the proposed plan, because they wish to be sure of getting a sewer system begun within the next five years. They want a beginning made at once.

There is another reason why many of the most progressive men in the city will vote against these bonds. The taxpayers' interests have been ignored at all points, and the "boodle" interest seems to have been never lost sight of. Had economy and the interests of the taxpayers cut any figure in the plans, provision would have been made to sell the bonds in blocks of say $100,000 at a time, as the money might be needed. It is well known that to build the inner system and the outfall sewer will require at least three years' time; it may take five years to do the work. Yet the city will be paying interest on $1,250,000 for all that time, while the bulk of the money will remain idle and unproductive so far as the city is concerned, for years. The bonds should be sold only as they are needed. If they are put on the market this fall they will encounter the closest money market known in this country in the current decade. Two years ago the New York banks held nearly $100,000,000 reserves above the legal 25 per cent. limit. Last Saturday the reserves above that limit were less than half a million dollars.

The meeting of last Saturday was attended by hundreds of the most progressive citizens of Los Angeles, men that have done more by one hundred times over to build up the city, than have those who stupidly and falsely denounce them as "mossbacks." They will put their veto at the polls on this unpopular and dangerous scheme to jeopardize for years the building of any sewers, and which would take over $10,000,000 of the tax-payers' money and turn it over low usufruct for someone else's benefit for years. And reasonably thoughtful workingmen will do well to be sure they are voting for a job when they only vote the city in tedious litigation which will stop all public works for half a decade.

The Business Outlook.

The quiet that prevails in business circles is not unusual at this period of the year. July, August and September are always the off months in a double sense in Los Angeles. A large percentage of the population leave the city for the numerous very attractive mountain and seaside resorts. Many avail themselves of the mildness of the season for travel in the East, and not a few of our people have been lured this year to Europe and to the extraordinary attractions of the Paris Exposition. These temporary absences have made a great draw on our normal population, and per consequence there is a dearth of business to the extent of that which would be doing if we had our full quota of population. But the truants will return before long and times will improve.

There is a general concensus of opinion that business will be on the up-grade next fall, and that we shall have a very large accession of Eastern visitors as soon as the winter sets in the other side of the Rockies. Los Angeles has suffered a great deal in the estimation of the people of the Atlantic Slope, by the mendacious reports that were so persistently circulated amongst them on the collapse of the speculative inflation of a few years ago. No falsehood seemed too bald and baseless for these calumniators to spread broadcast against us. There seemed to be a studied and concerted conspiracy of presses and people to injure our country by misrepresentation. But detraction, in this instance, has been overtaken by truth, and the true condition of affairs here and our unapproachable merits of climate, scenery and soil are again in the ascendant in the Eastern mind. We do not look for another wild boom. Indeed, we would do all in our power to avoid one. But the steady increase of a healthy immigration we look forward to with a certainty that it will come. We have too many good things here which the people of the East have not to be long without seekers after homes. A cold winter will send to us a flood of people who will desire to settle in a section possessing the most perfect climate on the American continent.

There is no lack of money here now to create a healthy revival of times if it were let loose for investment. It needs but a start to effect this. When the owners of surplus capital find that loans are slow and interest low, they will be likely to enter the purchasing field and invest in our splendid lands. At the prices at which good productive land can be purchased in the country, and advancing property can be had in the city and towns, there is a margin of profit which will pay much better than interest. The revival which is bound to come soon will enrich those people who have the nerve to make judicious investments at present values. That money all over the United States is more plentiful than good chances to invest is evident from the fact that interest has fallen lower than it ever was before in this country. Usury has reached its limits, and if money cannot be placed on loan it must seek other channels for its employment. It must enter into the field of investment, and no better opportunities exist anywhere than are to be found in this rich and growing section. The man of moderate means who ten years ago placed his money in realty in this city and kept a cool head during the boom, is now rich. The man of moderate means who now places his money judiciously in city property, or well selected land outside, cannot make a mistake, and will find himself wealthy in a few years by the mere advance in real values.

There will be a large immigration to Southern California this winter. It will be the forerunner of a still larger one each succeeding year. This city will continue to increase in population. It will have a quarter of a million inhabitants before the century closes. Any man can figure out where the great fortunes of the future are to be made here. If with a population of eighty thousand, the people who bought real estate here in 1880 between First street and Seventh, have got rich, with a population of a quarter of a million in 1900, it is not difficult to determine where one should buy now in order to be wealthy when that period arrives.

We have found an effective destroyer of the black scale bug in the Australian vedolia; but what shall we do with the red scale, which infests the orange trees? There has not yet been found an insect enemy to give him his quietus, and we are thrown back upon washes. The red scale is a far more destructive enemy than the icerya, or black scale, as it blasts the tree wherever it gets a foothold. This insect has made its appearance in some of the most valuable and productive orchards in the lower part of the city, and is creating sad havoc. Mr. J. H. Kellom has given special attention to the treatment of this pest, and his views on the best way to destroy it are, therefore, of great value. In a letter to a contemporary, he says:

Until within a year, or about eleven months, no spray had been found that would kill the black and red scale under the shell. Soda and petroleum washes would penetrate the shell, if made sufficiently strong, but not without injury to the tree. To save the tree and to kill the egg and the young in the shell was the great desideratum. The resin-soda spray seemed to fill the bill. About the middle of September last the first practical application of this spray on a large scale was made by W. Martin of Tustin with gratifying success. From that time to date Mr. Martin has been engaged in spraying with this composition. He has at present a team and tank at work in the city. During the warm months he is using a spray composed of resin, soda, oil and water, in the following proportions: One hundred gallons water, 16 pounds resin, 5 pounds soda, 3 pints whale oil. To the resin, soda and oil add 20 gallons water and boil thoroughly for four hours, and then add the remaining 80 gallons of water. If very dry, the trees should be irrigated before spraying. If the weather is hot four pounds of soda may be used instead of five. This resin spray will not injure the tree; neither will it kill all the scale—perhaps 25 per cent will remain, and these will multiply and require another spraying in three or four months. By the use of this compound we save the trees from death, the fruit from falling, and hope, by repetition, eventually to exterminate the pest.

The new elixir concocted by the famous Dr. Brown-Séquard, which was introduced to the suffering world with so loud a flourish, seems to be a very dangerous mixture. Analysts have discovered that it contains the germs of insects that enter the blood and cause great suffering. It is true that we have seen reports of wonderfully rejuvenating effects of the administering of this elixir to old and rheumatic people. I was claimed for it by its discoverer and by others that it would restore the vigor of youth to age; but the practical application of it in a great many experimental cases seems to have been more injurious than beneficial. The scientific world has about given up the quest after the elixir of life. The ravages of time in animal life cannot be restored by a potion. Nature run down may be fitfully reanimated by a stimulus, but the regenerating waters vainly sought for by Ponce de Leon in new countries and by alchemists in the laboratory are delusions that no longer lure science in their vain search.

EASTERN HAPPENINGS.

A Child Carried Skyward by Toy Balloons.

LITTLE SOPHIE SCHWAB'S PERIL.

She is Saved by a Sharpshooter's Skill—Railroad Disaster and Other Notes.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the Herald.]

Chicago, August 18.—Little two-year old Sophie Schwab involuntarily became a balloonist today and was wafted high up over the broad bosom of Lake Michigan. A rifleman's skill saved the child's life. The exciting incident took place at Sheffield park, and was witnessed by 15,000 picknickers. An Italian peddler of toy balloons attempted to serve two purchasers at once, and in doing so let go his string of bright-colored globes. The cord got twisted about Sophie's left arm, and also in her hair, and the buoyant rubber bubbles started heavenward, taking the youthful aeronaut along. Sophie's mother shrieked and fainted. The by-standers stood horror-stricken, scarcely breathing as the balloon swept close to a large oak-tree and the infant grasped a handful of twigs and checked her flight.

A muscular young German was ascending the tree in an instant, and thence crept out on the branch nearest the child. At this moment Sophie's puny strength gave out, and the balloon, suddenly released, went again upward at least 100 feet, drifting then out over the lake. Gust Koch, a sharpshooter who was attending the picnic with his repeating rifle, hurriedly jumped into a skiff with two companions and pulled out into range. Koch succeeded in piercing several of the balloons by a successful shot, helping the bunch to descend. Before it finally reached the water, the boat was at hand and little Sophie did not even get her feet wet.

BROKEN BRAKEBEAM.

Train Derailed and Eighteen People Injured.

Lincoln, Neb., August 18.—At 7:20 this morning a Burlington and Missouri passenger train of three cars met with a serious accident about a mile and a half from the depot in this city. The brakebeam broke and dropped down, forcing open a switch. The smoker took the switch and was derailed, and, with the car in the rear, rolled down a high embankment. Eighteen people were injured as follows:

William Bohacek and son, of Wilber, Neb., bruised; Mrs. Mary McKesson, of Wymore, knee sprained; R. K. Clark, of Des Moines, Iowa, face torn and hand crushed; W. F. Wood, of Waverly, Neb., left eye hurt. O. A. Jones, of Lincoln, is in a serious condition.

The foregoing were passengers. The following were members of a bridge gang who were aboard the train:

C. P. Olsen, badly hurt internally; Andrew Sundeon, severely hurt; W. A. Brown, badly cut; John Griffiths, side and back hurt; Larsa Fromstead, cut and bruised; Robert Kelly, back injured; George Holland, cut; W. J. Moncrief, head injured; C. Culley, shoulder crushed; William Reed, back hurt; F. Gibbart, Frank Graham and Conductor Haight, cut and bruised. None will die

HUNGRY AND DESTITUTE.

Strange Adventures of a Mother and Her Children.

Chicago, August 18.—Mrs. Kate Curtis and five children, ranging from four to fourteen years of age, were found in the Baltimore and Ohio depot by a police office, today, actually suffering from want of food. They were taken to the Harrison-street station and cared for. The woman said that some years ago she and her husband, Henry Magee, were engaged in a prosperous dry goods business in Pittsburg, Pa. Without giving her any reason her husband one day left her, and being unable to hear any tidings of him, Mrs Curtis sold all her worldly effects and returned to her native home, Newcastle-on-Tyne, England. A few weeks ago she received a letter from her sister in Seattle, informing her that her husband was in that town, and $200 was sent to her to bring the little family to the western country. Three weeks ago Saturday they started from England, but unscrupulous steamship and railway agents got the greater portion of the poor woman's money, and the family landed in Chicago last evening without a cent, having been informed that this city was Seattle, and that they would have no trouble in finding the husband and father. Captain Lloyd sent the destitute to the Home for the Friendless, for the night, and will endeavor to raise money enough to carry them to their destination.

SPEEDY RETRIBUTION.

A Colored Man Strung Up for Criminal Assault.

Savannah, August 18.—Walter Asbury (colored) was lynched at Pooler this morning for an assault upon Lulu Kissman, a 17-year-old German girl, yesterday. She was terribly beaten in the struggle with her assailant, but successfully resisted him. Her cries attracted a colored man, who was near by, and who rescued her from her assailant's hands. Asbury sprang through the door and escaped, but in the next house knocked down a woman, seized a double-barreled shotgun and fled to the woods. In an hour the whole town was in arms and a mounted posse in pursuit. About midnight the negro was found at a dance about a mile from the scene of the assault. He was taken back to the girl's house and she identified him. He confessed the crime and begged for mercy. Three hundred masked men hurried him to an open field near the railroad, where he was strung up to a tree and riddled with bullets.

BROWN-SEQUARD ELIXIR.

Dr. Longfellow Conducts Some Successful Experiments.

Cincinnati, August 18.—Dr. Longfellow, who was mentioned in an Associated Press report yesterday, in connection with the Brown Séquard elixir, called at the office of the Associated Press this evening and stated that he had treated fifty-nine patients with the elixir. Of that number forty per cent have been benefited, some a great deal, others less. In but one case has any special inflammation resulted, and that is far from dangerous. The results so far have been permanent, notwithstanding newspaper reports to the contrary.

Severe Storms in Minnesota.

St. Paul, August 18.—Reports have been received of severe storms at Plainview and St. Hilliard last night. From the latter place it is reported that a heavy hailstorm, accompanied by a strong wind, struck about six miles north of the town and did great damage to wheat not yet in shock. It also made a clean sweep of window glass. Chunks of ice an inch square were found. From Plainview comes the report of a severe thunder shower, during which Bartly Costella, a stage-driver, was struck by lightning and instantly killed.

PEARL HUNTERS' CRAZE.

Wisconsin Waters Yielding Up Thousands of the Gems.

Prairie Du Chien, Wis., August 18.—The pearl hunters' craze has struck here and the largest number of pearls yet reported in this State, has been gathered during the past day or two. More than one thousand pearls were sent from here, yesterday, by two or three parties; some of the pearls are quite large and very valuable. While hunting pearls, today, a man by the name of Laroque fished up a large bombshell that had probably lain in the river a great many years, probably from the time of the capture of the old fort by the British.

RICHMOND RIOT.

The Usual Calm Sets in After the Storm.

Richmond, Tex., August 18.—The situation is quiet here since the terrible riot. The Light Guards of Houston are here and ex Governor Ross arrived yesterday, accompanied by the Brenham Light Guards. It is thought the military will not be needed, at least for the present. As the Sheriff has been killed and his deputy wounded, no arrests have been made, nor has any inquest been held to investigate the cause of the deaths, though the bodies of the dead have been buried. It is thought all will be left to the Grand Jury for settlement.

NOVEL SUICIDE.

A Once Respected Citizen's Disgrace and Probable Death.

Kansas City, Mo., August 18.—A. Musser, at one time a well-known and respected citizen of Brunswick, Maine, today made a novel attempt at suicide that will doubtless prove successful. Musser was arrested yesterday afternoon at the Union depot, charged with the theft of numerous satchels. Today, guarded by two officers, he was taken out to find papers contained in some of the satchels, and while passing the cable road, threw himself in front of a passing train before the officers could restrain him, sustaining injuries that will prove fatal.

TURF NOTES.

Investigating the Chickasaw Scandal—Hindoocraft Sold.

Saratoga, N. Y., August 18.—The investigation of the turf scandal which resulted in the expulsion of the Chickasaw stable on account of Ballston's unsatisfactory performance in the race with Retrieve, two weeks ago, will be resumed before a meeting of the Stewards next Wednesday. Scoggin Brothers sold Hindoocraft and Irene to some one unknown, but who is said to be a New York society man, for $15,000.

GREEN-EYED MONSTER.

A Jealous Negro Cuts His Wife's Throat, Also His Own.

Memphis, Tenn., August 18.—Parker Harris, colored, aged 30 years, killed his wife tonight by cutting her throat with a pocket knife. He afterwards cut his own throat and inflicted wounds that in all probability will prove fatal. Jealousy was the cause that prompted the action.

CUT HIS THROAT.

A Wealthy Opium-Eater Cuts Short His Career.

Duluth, Minn., August 18.—Dr. A. B. Liude, of Milwaukee, who arrived at the Hotel St. Louis six days ago, committed suicide at the hotel last night. When the chambermaid entered his room this morning he was found dead with his throat cut. He is supposed to have been well-to-do, as he had a large amount of baggage and seemed to be well fixed for money. He was an opium eater, and had no occupation here. He was about 35 years old.

GRAPE JUICE.

Is the Unfermented Product of the Vine Poison?

San Francisco, August 18.—The closing day of the Seventh Annual Viticultural Convention was devoted chiefly to discussions of general subjects. A discussion arose over Dr. Stewart's statement that grape juice, unfermented and bottled and, as used in church communion services, was positive poison. His statement was challenged by Prof. Hilgard, who stated that he had used it for many years in his house, and other members present testified that grape juice was much in demand in the East, being used by some as a remedy for liver disorders.

Atlantic Steamships.

New York, August 18.—Arrived: The steamers Aurania and Alaska, from Liverpool; Egyptian Monarch, London; Rhaetia, Hamburg; City of Columbia, Havana; Pocasset, Mediterranean ports.

London, August 18.—The steamer British Princess, from Philadelphia for Liverpool, has arrived at Queenstown. La Bretagne, from New York, has arrived at Havre. The Rugia, from New York for Hamburg, has arrived at Plymouth. The Servia, from New York for Liverpool, has arrived at Queenstown.

Registered Mail Pouch Stolen.

St Louis, August 18.—It is claimed that a registered letter pouch, supposed to have contained parcels valued at $10,000, was stolen from a mail car on the Vandalia road while the clerks were at supper at Terre Haute last night. The postmaster said the only information he had was that the pouch had been stolen and afterwards found near the track, cut open and rifled of its contents, but said probably a large portion was checks which would not be negotiable.

Died in His Fatherland.

Lovers Embrace Each Other in Death.

TIRED OF THE TURMOIL OF LIFE.

A Sunday Morning Fire in San Francisco—Fifth Drowning in Napa Creek.

[Associated Press dispatches to the Herald.]

Fresno, Cal., August 18.—This morning Mrs. W. D. Tupper knocked at the door of her servant girl, Elizabeth Verner, to ask her to bring in breakfast. Receiving no response, she opened the door and entered. A horrible sight met her eyes. There, on the bed, lay the girl and her lover, Andrus Olsen, clasped in each other's arms. The girl was dead, and Olsen struggling in the last throes of death. Both had bled profusely at the mouth and nose, covering the bed with blood, which had trickled down and formed a pool on the floor. On a table was found an empty bottle without a label, but it is supposed the bottle contained poison, which the couple used for self-destruction. On the same table the following note was found:

"We are tired of living; best regards to our friends. We wish you would write home to our parents, but don't tell the way we died."

Olsen only lived a few minutes after being found, and both bodies were removed to the morgue, where an inquest will be held tomorrow. The most plausible reason for the suicide seems to be that the couple desired to be married, but were interfered with in their love affairs by another party who was a constant visitor to the house. Both were of Danish descent.

BASEBALL.

A Close and Exciting Game at San Francisco.

San Francisco, August 18.—The San Franciscos and Sacramentos played a game of baseball at the Haight-street grounds this afternoon, in which hits were numerous and enough of brilliant plays scattered throughout to amply compensate for the blunders made. The Senators hit the ball hardest, fairly earning six of their ten runs, and touching up Meegan's curves for thirteen safe hits, including two home runs, a triple and two doublers. Bad fielding was what lost them the game, which their batting should have won easily. O'Day at short stop was largely to blame for the team's defeat. Three errors charged against him were all of the costliest kind, and were responsible for half the 'Friscos' unearned runs. Owing to the Oaklands' excursion to Stockton the audience was somewhat smaller than usual, but those present were more than amply paid, as the game was full of fine hitting and funny antics. This served to keep the crowd in good humor through ten full innings. Score: San Francisco, 11; Sacramento, 10.

OAKLANDS VS. STOCKTONS.

Stockton, August 18.—In the game today between the Oaklands and Stocktons, some rank ball-playing was done. Fudger did good work in the box for Stockton, but had the worst kind of support, eight Oaklanders being given first base on errors. In the second inning, Oakland made four runs. They got another in the third by one base on balls and a three-bagger by Farrell. In the seventh four men were sent to bases on balls. A single by Buckley, a wild pitch by Farrell and another by Smalley, who relieved him, gave Stockton four runs, but one of which was earned. Smalley was put in and he struck out Hunolt and Sweeny. Stockton needed only one to tie, but they went to pieces and in their half of the seventh the Oaklands got in three runs on a single by Long, a sacrifice by Dailey, a muff on Hunolt and errors by Ebright, Stickney and Whitehead. In the eighth an error by Whitehead, a wild pitch by Fudger, single of Long and an error by Sweeny, gave them two more. Coughlan filled the box in the last two innings, and the Stocktons were enabled to score. Oaklands, 10; Stocktons, 4.

A LITTLE GAME AT MERCED.

Merced, Cal., August 18.—The Tribunes of Oakland were defeated by the home club yesterday. Borchers occupied the box for Merced, and was well supported by Stanley. Score: 18 to 9, with a total for Borchers of fourteen strike-outs.

NO GAME AT CINCINNATI.

Cincinnati, August 18.—There was no ball game here to-day, as the authorities threatened yesterday that, if one was played, they would break it up by arresting the President and all the players.

FIRE IN 'FRISCO.

Seven Buildings Destroyed Early Sunday Morning.

San Francisco, August 18.—Seven buildings, in the vicinity of the northwest corner of Fourth and Townsend streets, were completely destroyed by fire this morning, and twice as many more were badly damaged. The total loss is estimated at twenty thousand dollars, but when all the damages are accurately footed up, that amount may be exceeded by $5,000 or $10,000. The fire started in the rear of a one-story frame building, owned by Peter Hughes and occupied as a chop house. In this building there was also a saloon. The flames quickly spread to the adjoining wooden buildings, occupied by the marble yard of Rice & Co.; next, a one-story frame building owned by J. L. Merrill and occupied as a restaurant, was destroyed. A two-story frame structure owned by Merrill did not withstand the flames many minutes. The other buildings burned were a one-story frame, owned by A. Boyd; a one-story frame owned by Peter Hughes, and stored with machinery and old-fashioned locomotives used in the early days; a one-story brick, occupied as a fruit store by Allen David and belonging to J. Gilbert.

MILITARY ENCAMPMENTS.

Infantry Break Camp and Give Way to the Artillery.

Santa Cruz, August 18.—The Fifth and Sixth Regiments of the National Guard of California completed their eight days' encampment and returned to their homes today. The camp was successful from a military point of view, and was very pleasant socially. The discipline and behavior of the men was excellent. Just prior to the departure of the Fifth and Sixth Infantry, the First Artillery Regiment, N. G. C., arrived and pitched camp in a field adjoining. The artillery men are from Sacramento, Oakland and Nevada City. They will remain one week.

SECOND ARTILLERY.

Monterey, August 18.—A special train of eleven coaches, bearing the Second Artillery Regiment, N. G. C., arrived here at 1:05 this morning, from San Francisco. They were met at the depot by a delegation from Monterey, bearing torches. Guard mount was held at 9 this morning, divine service at 11, and dress parade at 6 this evening. Tomorrow the regular routine duties of camp life will commence.

CHICO AND COLUSA GUARDS.

Red Bluff, Cal., August 18.—A reception was given to the Chico and Colusa Guards at this place last evening, on their way home from Sisson. The visitors departed for their homes this morning.

NEAGLE AND HIS GUN.

Episodes in the Career of Judge Terry's Slayer.

"The ups and downs of life are passing strange," said an old miner to a Call reporter last night. "Here's Dave Neagle, whom we all knew so well as a shotgun miner up in Nevada, posing now as a hero, because he shot down a man. I tell you it must have made Dave laugh when he read those descriptions of himself, of his quiet, gentlemanly demeanor; of his tender, lamb-like disposition."

"Then he has had a checkered career?" said the reporter.

"Well, to put it mildly, yes," was the answer. "Checkered, however, hardly describes it. I don't think Dave, with all his faults, would like to sail under false colors, so if you'd like to hear the true story of that Mexican adventure of his, I'll give you that as a starter. He was then Chief of Police of Tombstone, and the Mexican, who was nothing more nor less than a drunken vaquero, went off on a spree and ended by having a row with some woman, whom he cut—just a drunken row, you know. Well, Dave had just been put in as Chief, and when he heard of the trouble he started off with a posse after the Greaser. In that country they don't do things in a lady-like manner, and as the posse started round it made people know that something was going on. The Mexican was in a saloon when he heard they were coming, and, believing discretion desirable, he sneaked out the back door and attempted to crawl on his hands and knees toward the pig-pen, where he proposed hiding. He was half way across when Neagle sighted him. He up with his revolver, before the other knew any one was in the neighborhood, and potted him with a bullet in the head.

SHOT LIKE A DOG.

"Rather makes me laugh to hear people talking about this wild Mexican getting off to his lair, shooting off his gun and painting the town red, while brave Neagle gets in and kills him. Why, the poor Greaser had not even a chance to defend himself."

"Neagle has done quite a good deal of killing in his time, has he not?" asked the reporter.

"Well, yes," answered the miner, "he has been in that business to a very considerable extent. I have not kept track of him so thoroughly as some people have, but I do know of some work he has done. He was bad friends with a fellow named Jim Levy up in Pioche and they had a row. The same day Jim went off on a big drunk, and Dave thought the opportunity a good one to pot him. Levy was firing off his gun in the street and making considerable of a row, when Neagle ensconsed himself behind the big wheel of an ore wagon and waited developments. Jim saw him and fired at him, but his position saved him. Then Dave took aim and fired. The bullet struck Levy right in the center of the forehead, but instead of burying itself in the skull, glanced upward and plowed through the scalp without doing much injury. Shortly after that Jim got out of Pioche and went down Arizona way, where he was shot by some other fellow.

"Yes," continued the miner, "he did do a good deal of work up in Nevada. He obtained quite a reputation as a shotgun miner, and did a good deal of it. The shotgun miner does not do any digging, you know. He first locates on a dump, behind an earthworks, and when a man with a paper comes along—well, sometimes there's a shot fired—sometimes there's a death.

KILLED HIS PARTNER.

"The last of Dave Neagle's exploits, though, that I know about, was up in Butte. He was mining up there, and he had a partner. After working together amicably for some time the two had a falling out over money matters. I believe the partner had some coin he would not 'divy on.' They had some high words, and Neagle just out with his pistol and killed him dead as a door nail.

"But he's a cunning fellow, though," continued the miner. "He hastened back to the mine and told all the boys that his partner was bolting, and that he shot him to secure their money for them. Well, they thought he was all right, and did nothing."

"How did Neagle get elected Chief of Police of Tombstone?" was asked.

"By promising something he did not perform. Tombstone was a pretty rough place in those days and a family of five boys—the Earps—assisted by a chap named Doc Holliday, sort of run the town. They used to march round with big revolvers, firing here and there as they pleased. Neagle promised to disarm them if he was elected, and on the strength of his promise he was put in. Do you know he never touched an Earp as long as he was in there—never laid a finger on one of them? He was beaten for the same place next year, however. Why, there's thousands of things told about him. I believe he has been accused of every crime in the calendar, but some how or other he has had good luck and never got arrested.

WHAT HE WAS IMPORTED FOR.

"I suppose you know he was imported here to bring "Big" Burns—Buckley's henchman—to his senses. He's a dead shot, you know, and a proficient manipulator of the revolver. Some one else got in on Burns and that saved him."

"What's that story about his beating a fallen woman almost to death?" was asked.

"That was since his arrival here. An evening paper, you know, made a good deal of talk about it at the time. I believe he and she had some row and he was a Deputy Sheriff. Well, he got in and nearly killed her; he beat and trounced her cruelly, and, I believe, left her for dead. There was a lot about it in the papers at the time. If you were to go at it you could get a great many stories about Neagle. He is one of those fellows that when he appears anywhere men who know him ask, 'Who's got to be killed.'—[San Francisco Call.

Sarah Bernhardt Becomes a Widow. An Address of Sympathy to Boulanger.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 18.—The steamer City of Sydney, from Hong Kong and Yokohama, which arrived this evening, was expected to bring details of the earthquake at Kumamoto, the first news of which was cabled from Yokohama July 30th. One cablegram gave the loss of life at 3,000, while another stated that almost the entire town of Kumamoto, with a population of 38,000, 000, was destroyed. Full details had not been received when the City of Sydney left Yokohama, but the newspapers' reports of that city of August 2nd, indicate no such loss as given by the cablegrams. Several late telegrams to Yokohama gave the loss at twenty to thirty killed. A Japan newspaper, the Jiji Shimpo says, however: "By the great earthquake at Kumamoto on the twenty-eighth of July, many hills have been rent, houses demolished and people killed and wounded. In the city, independent of the surrounding villages, another shock has been felt and the inhabitants are fearing further disaster. Many people have been seized with superstition, on account of the hills being broken up."

JAPAN FLOODS.

The floods having subsided in the various districts of Japan, a fairly accurate estimate of the damage done is obtained. Nine hundred and thirty houses were destroyed by being washed away or broken up by colliding with one another. Forty-one persons are known to have lost their lives.

CHINESE RIOTS.

The Overland China Mail learns, July 6th, that the rioters in Fokien, a province of China, had fled before the approaching troops. Before leaving, however, they burned their boats and implements. The report of an attack on the Chin Chu villages is confirmed. For a loss of four or five of their countrymen last year the rioters revenged themselves by slaughtering between 400 and 500 inhabitants of the Chin Chu villages, including women and children.

THE EXILED STATESMAN.

Boulanger Tendered a Vote of Sympathy and Confidence.

LONDON, August 18.—Five hundred French residents visited General Boulanger in a body today and presented him an address of confidence and sympathy. The General, in a speech, said he had never used money belonging to France except when trying to secure her against her enemies. If he had been cited before a regularly constituted court of assizes, he and his colleagues would have taken the first boat for France to face the trial. The French Government did not dare to avail themselves of the ordinary courts, but formed a special tribunal, composed of his political enemies, which had virtually condemned him before it met.

Sarah Bernhardt Widowed.

PARIS, August 18.—M. Damala, the husband of Sarah Bernhardt, died today of cerebral congestion.

[In the dramatic column of this paper it will be noticed, on the authority of a Berlin letter, that M. Damala's ailment was delirium tremens, brought about by overdoses of morphine. Cerebral congestion is a milder way of putting it, but there is good reason to believe that it was excessive use of the drug that caused M. Damala's cerebrum to be congested. —EDITOR.]

A Casus Foederis.

BERLIN, August 18.—It is reported that the recent interviews between Prince Bismarck and the Emperor Francis Joseph and Count Kalnoky resulted in a modification of the Austro-German treaty, whereby a casus foederis is established whenever the vital interests of either nation are threatened. Hitherto only an attack has constituted a cause for joint action.

The French People.

PARIS, August 18.—President Carnot delivered an address at a banquet today to 1,300 Mayors and Communal Delegates. He said the French people, though crushed for the time, had shown its power to recover and make its sovereign voice heard, by removing parties still aiming to undermine the edifice raised by the fathers of the republic.

Drager and Olsen Doomed

PLACERVILLE, Cal., August 18.—John Olsen and William Drager, who were convicted, together with John H. Myers, of the murder of John Lowell, a rancher, about a year ago, were sentenced yesterday to be hanged on Wednesday, the 16th of October. Myers expiated his crime on the scaffold November 30th last. Drager reiterated his claim of innocence today, but Olsen maintains sullen silence.

Drowned in Napa Creek.

NAPA, Cal., August 18.—William McKay, 19 years old, was drowned this evening while bathing in Napa creek. A younger brother tried to rescue him, and narrowly escaped drowning himself. The body has not yet been recovered. This makes five deaths by drowning in Napa creek within the past six months.

Dies Within a Week.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 18.—James Mace died at the City Hospital this morning from the effects of a knife wound in the skull, inflicted in a saloon last Sunday evening by John Kenny. Kenny, who has been in the City Prison a week awaiting the result of Mace's injuries, was immediately charged with murder. An autopsy will be held tomorrow.

For the Bonds.

A meeting of the Turners was held last night to discuss the sewer bond election. It was called at the instance of the Literary Committee, and there was a large attendance. Eugene Brenner was chosen Chairman and John P. Krempel Secretary. Mr. L. Lichtenberger spoke in opposition to the issuance of bonds for the outfall sewer. Judge Gottschalk favored the bonds and Secretary Krempel gave his views from a technical standpoint. S. G. Marschultz spoke in favor of the bonds and a resolution favoring the voting of the bonds was carried by a small majority.

IRRIGATION STATISTICS

Compiled in Pamphlet Form by the State Board of Trade.

A copy of the last pamphlet of the State Board of Trade, "The Reclamation of Arid Lands," was received by the Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce Saturday. It contains in a digested form the report of the Committee on Arid Lands which was made at the last regular meeting of the State Board. This committee consisted of the following men: M. M. Estee, Chairman; W. H Mills, San Francisco; E. W. Jones, Los Angeles; N. P. Chipman, Tehama; L. M. Holt, San Bernardino; Jesse D. Carr, Monterey; C. C. Wright, Stanislaus; Frank H. Cunningham, San Diego; Wm. Thompson, Reno, Nevada.

The questions which were set before the committee for discussion were: (1) What is the physical condition of California so far as it relates to irrigation? (2) What amount of irrigable land is there in the State? (3) What amount of water can be obtained for the purpose of irrigation? What are the advantages of irrigation? In this connection does irrigation pay? What is the condition of irrigation as at present practiced in California and what interest has the National Government in the subject of irrigation on the Pacific Coast and in relation to all that extent of country known as the arid region which lies west of the Missouri river?

These matters were discussed at length by the various members of the committee, each with regard to his own section. In the pamphlet the matter is given in a concise form, and made to apply in a general way to the entire State.

The pamphlet contains an immense amount of valuable material, and will be laid before the Arid Land Senatorial Commission when it visits this State.

Died from Her Burns.

Miss Bessie Helen Ward, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Ward, died yesterday from the effect of the burns received a few days ago. It will be remembered that her little sister tipped the lamp over and, in endeavoring to save her, Miss Bessie's clothing caught fire and she ran into the street, where some of the neighbors managed to extinguish the fire, but not until she was seriously burned. She lingered in great pain until yesterday, when she expired. The funeral will take place this afternoon at 2 o'clock from her residence, No. 16 Alabama street.

The Supervisors.

The Board of Supervisors met on Saturday. It was ordered that an advertisement be inserted in the Los Angeles Express and Downey Champion for sealed proposals for opening a channel for the Old San Gabriel river from Hunt's Crossing north to a point above the old telegraph road crossing.

It was ordered that an election notice for a Supervisor be made public. Another meeting of the board will take place on the 20th.

The Turf Club Saloon.

The Turf Club Saloon, in the Adam block, has changed hands and it is intended to make it one of the most palatial resorts of the kind in Los Angeles. Mr. F. Adam, the proprietor, was compelled to assume charge of the place in order to carry out the arrangements, and the saloon will be conducted by him. An entire renovation of the building will be the first step. Commodious offices will be arranged on the second story which will be used for business purposes. The establishment will be elaborately fitted up in the most artistic style of modern decoration, and will undoubtedly equal any similar place of its kind in the city, which is saying a great deal. It is intended to make it the resort of business men, and a fine mercantile lunch will be served daily. It is expected that the improvements will be finished shortly. The wines and liquors will also be one of the specialties, and judging from the standing of the new proprietor, it will take lead among our thirst-quenching resorts.

OFFICIAL DRAWING

OF THE

LOUISIANA STATE LOTTERY.

SINGLE NUMBER, CLASS "H."

Drawn at New Orleans, Louisiana, on Tuesday, August 13, 1889.

All GENUINE Louisiana State Lottery Tickets are dated New Orleans, and agree to pay all prizes in New Orleans, where the Company holds its Charter from the State, and where both the purchaser of a ticket and the Company are equally protected by the laws of the State and of the United States. Tickets dated and issued from other cities in the name of the Louisiana State Lottery Company, promising to pay prizes in other places than New Orleans are not Louisiana State Lottery tickets at all, but are counterfeits and cheats, intended to deceive and defraud the unwary.

Remember that ONE DOLLAR is the price of the smallest part or fraction of a ticket issued in any drawing. Anything in our name offered at a less price, is either a counterfeit or a swindle. Remember further, when examining to see if your ticket has drawn a prize, never to accept anything but our official drawings which are copyrighted under the Act of Congress, and cannot be reprinted correctly, under penalty of the law

NEWS NOTES.

The Young Los Angeles Baseball club defeated the Cyclones by a score of 10 to 9.

The City Council will meet this morning, probably for the last time in the old Council chamber.

City Clerk Teed and his entire force of assistants were busy yesterdry straightening out the records of the city in the new City Hall.

Mayor Hazard will send in a request to the Council today that the vacant part of the new City Hall lot be laid out in a lawn, with flower-beds, by the Superintendent of Parks.

The Little Lightweights defeated the Little Santa Fes in a game of baseball, Saturday afternoon, by a score of 20 to 5. Charley Blennerhasset and Henry Haeder constituted the battery for the victors.

A revival is in progress at the Stephens A. M. E. Church, conducted by Rev. George Bailey, of Arizona. The new pastor of the church, Rev. Mr. Wethers, of Louisiana, is expected to arrive today, and will preach tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock.

The Rev. Dr. Pendleton preached in the Grand Opera House hall yesterday to a large audience, nearly filling the hall. Over forty persons gave their names to form the new organization, which, it is expected, will take place next Sunday in the same hall. With these names the Doctor has a list of eighty or more persons who have indicated to him a desire to form a new church. Mrs. Haralren's solo was an attractive feature in the morning, as was also the very finely executed piano solo, "Nearer, my God, to Thee," by Miss Anna Pendleton in the evening.

Criminal Notes.

O. L. Fisher was arrested yesterday on a charge of fast driving. The alleged offense was committed on Hill street, near Sixth.

Albert Harper was arrested yesterday evening for violating the swill ordinance. He was collecting garbage in a wagon that had no cover.

Mike McQuade, alias "Shorty," was arrested by Officer Marden on Spring street at 9 o'clock last night for begging from a pedestrian on the sidewalk. He vigorously denied the charge at the station but was locked up in the City Prison.

An old-timer, who has seen the inside of the Police Station a good many times, got drunk yesterday and began yelling insults at everybody who passed through the Arcade depot. When he was threatened with arrest he wanted to see the policeman who would dare touch him. It took several officers to get him to the station.

A telephone message was sent into Police Headquarters, last night, saying that a shooting scrape was in progress on Arcadia street, near Main. The patrol wagon and several officers and reporters went down there, but found that nothing of the kind had been heard of by those hanging around in the vicinity. It will go hard with anyone if caught playing practical jokes upon either Police or Fire Departments.

About 4 o'clock yesterday morning a Mexican vaquero named Jesus Ybarra rushed into the arms of Officer Purvis as he leaned against a telegraph pole on New High street yearning for the relief watch to appear. He informed the startled policeman that he had just been robbed by a demi mondaine in a "crib" near by. He was accompanied to the place by the officer and pointed out the den of Carrie Blair alias Abbott. The woman was promptly arrested, and with the alleged victim conveyed to the Police Station, where Ybarra identified her positively, and swore that she had stolen $63 from his clothes. Both were locked up until this morning, pending investigation, the money not having been found.

THE SWEET-POTATO MAN.

A Story of the Land Craze with a Moral.

"A little more than two years ago," remarked a commission merchant the other day, "a young fellow who owned a ranch, not far from the city, used to bring me in occasionally a load of sweet-potatoes. He was a bright, industrious fellow, and his potatoes were about the best I could get to handle. It was evident that he was doing a very prosperous business with the products of his ranch, and I became interested in him.

"One day in the midst of the boom he brought in a fine load, and after the purchase had been completed he said to me, 'There, you have the last sweet potatoes that I shall ever dig. I have given up my farm, and shall go into business.'

"I was called away before I had a chance to ask him what kind of business he had found to enter, but I had no difficulty in guessing what it was. A few days later I saw him in a new suit of clothes, coming out of a large real estate office, where a desk bore his name in gaudy letters. He informed me in answer to my questions, that he was doing well—quite well, in fact; that he had made some ten or fifteen thousand dollars the first week and had a good deal more in sight. His talk was all of syndicates, land and water stock companies and new manufacturing and railroad centers. I think he had already forgotten what were the market quotations on sweet potatoes.

"Well, time passed away and so did the boom. In the meanwhile I had lost sight of my rancher, and in fact had quite forgotten him. One day, not long since, I was sitting in my office and wondering when the farming people would ever wake up to the fact that it would pay to keep chickens and cows, when I heard a familiar voice say, 'How are you on sweet potatoes?' I turned around in some surprise, and beheld a man that I knew but could not at first put into his proper place in my memory.

"'I have got some of my first crop out here in the wagon' said he, 'and although they may not be as good as I used to bring you, still I would like to have you look at them.' Then I remembered who he was and asked for an explanation. He had stuck to the real-estate business as long as there was anything in it—and a little longer. He was now back on the ranch working hard and saving every cent to pay interest on mortgages. He regarded himself as very lucky that he had the farm to get back to instead of having it entirely wrenched out of his hands, as at one time he feared would happen. It was now all under cultivation again and would soon be making good returns. He proposed to continue to raise sweet potatoes from now on to the end of the chapter."

"This," said the produce man in conclusion, "seems to me a good sample boom story and it has a very satisfactory moral."

CLEAR YOUR FACE.

It has been heretofore shown in these columns that modern medicine has demonstrated that a pimply skin is not the result of blood diseases, but is caused by impaired digestion, for which they now give vegetable correctives instead of potash and mineral blood purifiers. Two short testimonials are here given to contrast the action of the potash sarsaparillas and Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla.

Mrs. C. D. Stuart of 1221 Mission street, S. F., writes that she took one of the leading sarsaparillas for indigestion and dyspepsia. Its only effect was to cause pimples to appear on her face. Upon taking Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla the first effect was the disappearance of the pimples and she was subsequently relieved of her indigestion and dyspepsia. Robert Stewart also writes from Petaluma, Cal., that being troubled with boils he found that one of the leading sarsaparillas actually increased the eruptions, which responded at once to Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla and disappeared almost immediately.

Hale and Hearty in Old Age.
What is more beautiful than an ancient tree clothed with an ample robe of verdure. Apt is the comparison between such a growth and an old man or woman infused with health and vigor. The sine qua non, the indispensable condition of vigorous youth, robust manhood and a virile old age, is sound digestion. Without this life is shorn of the hearty zest that should attend it. No more beneficent and agreeable contributor to the attainment of a hale old age, and efficient means of counteracting the infirmities that too often attend life's decline, can be found than Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Dyspeptic symptoms, a tendency to kidney complaint, nervous inquietude and rheumatic trouble are overcome by its use. The effects of exposure and overwork are nullified by it, and it affords efficient protection to all subjected to material influences. Give it a thorough trial.

Angostura Bitters restores the appetite and cures indigestion when all else fails. Manufactured by Dr. J G. B. Siegert & Sons. At all druggists.

27 PER CENT. DIFFERENCE.

THE "ROYAL" THE STRONGEST AND PUREST BAKING POWDER.

Attention has been called to publications from the the Price Baking Powder Co., the obvious purpose of which was to rid themselves of the recent exposure of the inferiority or low test of the baking powder manufactured by that house.

As to whether the Price baking powder is equal to the "Royal," the truth is that when the cans were purchased on the open market and examined by Prof. Chandler, of the New York Board of Health, the report revealed the fact that Price's powder contained twenty-seven per cent. less strength than the "Royal."

When compared in money value, this difference would be as follows:

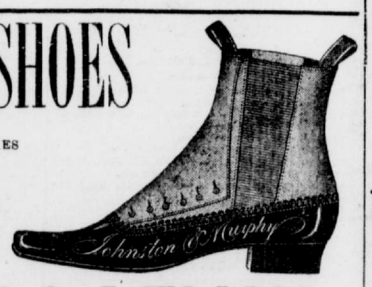

One pound can Royal Baking Powder worth 50 cents.

One pound can Price's worth 36 cents.

The Royal Baking Powder Company have been fighting for years past to break up the practice of substituting Alum, Phosphates, Lime, etc, as cheap substitutes for cream tartar, as well as short weights and low test in baking powders, and the "stop thief" cry will not prevent the exposure of all who are engaged in the nefarious business of palming upon the public cheap or injurious baking powders at the same price at which a pure and wholesome article is sold

The Royal Baking Powder has the commendation of the most noted chemists in the country for its purity and freedom from every substance of an injurious nature, being manufactured from grape cream tartar, in which no lime, alum or impurity exists.

OFFICE:

We take pleasure in announcing to the public that we combine the Compound Oxygen Treatment with our system of practice in the cure of Asthma, Bronchitis, Consumption, Dyspepsia, Insomnia, Sore Throat, Catarrh, Rheumatism and Nervous Prostration.

As is well known, oxygen is the life-giving principle in the air we breathe and ozone in the air imparts that happy and buoyant feeling after thunderstorms. Persons often require more oxygen than is in the air around them, and cause doors and windows to be opened, tear off collars, loosen the waist, and call for a fan to displace the stifling and bring fresher air or more oxygen. Traveling is done mainly to resorts where the air contains more oxygen, and mountains are ascended to breathe the ozone, which is light and ascends from the earth.

Oxygen and ozone are gases, and must be stored up and used by inhaling them. Our apparatus for storing and giving these gases, compounded with other suitable agents, is perfect; and, although they are not a cure-all, yet they are undoubtedly the greatest invention made in the last 20 years in any department of medicine, and the results are truly wonderful.

Oxygen acts by purifying the blood, thereby increasing the circulation, promotes absorption, improves digestion and assimilation, increases the capability of the lungs, and acts as a gentle stimulant to the nervous system.

The London, England, Lancet, very truthfully says: "The Compound Oxygen treatment is the greatest discovery of the nineteenth century." Clergymen, statesmen, lawyers, doctors, and all classes indiscriminately, whenever it is introduced, both use and recommend it.

J. B. Marshall, Kansas City, says: I gained 15 pounds in weight while using the Compound Oxygen treatment one month for consumption under Dr. Williams' care, of Los Angeles, and in three months I was cured.

Hon. Bert Monroe, Columbus, Ohio, says: I used the Compound Oxygen for about six weeks in December last, while under Dr. Williams' care, of Los Angeles, for bronchitis and catarrh, since which time I have had no symptoms whatever. I gained 22 pounds while using it. I never tried anything equal to it.

Mrs. Charles Gibson, of San Jose, Cal., says: The Compound Oxygen I used while under the care of Dr. M. Hilton Williams, of Los Angeles, entirely cured me of dyspepsia and rheumatism combined with insomnia, in two months, after having suffered for 16 years. There is nothing like the Compound Oxygen treatment.

Rev. Asa Bradley, of San Francisco, Cal., says: I went to South Cal. on account of nervous prostration. Hearing of the wonderful success of Dr. M. Hilton Williams, with his Compound Oxygen treatment, I tried it for one month and really during that time a complete transformation took place. I am now as well as ever, and weigh the most I ever weighed since I left England 27 years ago.

John Knox, Jr., D.D., of Hamilton, Ont., says: In January, 1889 Dr. M. Hilton Williams, of Los Angeles, Cal., cured me of tubercular consumption, which I had for six years. I used nothing else but his Compound Oxygen treatment. Its vitalizing force is wonderful.

Samuel Gray, Los Angeles, says: Compound Oxygen, under the direction of Dr. Williams, cured me of catarrh and throat disease in six weeks, after suffering for 18 years.

Persons desiring treatment by this system of practice can use the remedies at home as well as at our office, and which will cause no inconvenience or hindrance to business whatever.

I have seen so many of these cases cured that I do not consider any case hopeless unless both lungs are seriously involved. Even then the inhalations aid us in dissolving the mucus and in connecting and healing the cavities, which nothing else can do with the same success.

The very best references from those already cured.
